YELLOW JACKET

VOLUME FIFTY-SIX
PUBLISHED BY
THE YELLOW JACKET STAFF
DENISON, TEXAS

Foreword

Our school, DHS ... One world yet many, this school: Our worlds of DHS.

Worlds of a sophomore ... clubs, classes, new rules, strange worlds ... Never the same face twice ... No room in lockers ... It's happened before, all this ... Yes, but never to us.

Then—a junior's worlds ... "Schedules changed; lunch hours only" ... "Typing or chemistry?" ... As many problems ... But all somehow familiar ... We've been through this before.

Seniors; last-time year ... Run; run; try to remember ... Faces we knew are gone ... It's over so soon ... A night; a speech; cap and gown ... And now we leave our worlds.

So that three-year worlds
may be ours to keep, our theme:
THE WORLDS OF DHS

Foreword

Hail to thee our Alma Mater
School we love so dear
With our friends and fellow comrades
We spend our happy years.

Though we leave we'll always cherish
Memories old and new
Hail to thee our Denison High School
We are all for you.

Our many worlds begin here
On the streets of our town,
Which we see, and pass by, and see again—
While our minds make them scenes of memory,
A part forever of what we are.

Our worlds do not end here.
Drop a pebble into water
And concentric rings spread outward
Around the place where it fell.
So it is with our worlds,
Spreading outward ...

Outward, by dusty roads and superhighways,
To all the towns and cities of Texas—
Bel's and Grapevine
Dallas and Houston.
We go everywhere
And meet the people
Who are meeting us;
So that each of us lives
As pictures in other minds.

We keep on going.
After Texas—this country before us . . .

70

This country waits for us ...
We are coming.
Ink lines on a paper map,
Now lines of concrete and asphalt
Stretching across a nation.
We go outward, following the lines.
Where the lines do not go
We are making our own.

We are everywhere
Seeing everything
Finding our country, its worlds meeting ours.
We will go further .

70

The world is ours
By right of participation.
What we have seen and done
All we have experienced,
These are ours forever
Dark—bright pictures of worlds left behind.

There's no stopping us.
The sky's not the limit—
Not anymore.
Footprints on the moon already.
One of these days...

The universe.

Mrs. Kay Casey

Dedication

Mrs. Casey helps Lenell Miller in her bookkeeping chores as business manager of the Yellow Jacket. She is always willing to help those who ask her assistance

The "family," otherwise known as the 1970 and 71 annual staffs are shown here with Mrs. Casey following the announcement.

To one who is admired and respected by the entire student body and faculty

To one who demonstrates such cooperation, enthusiasm, and understanding in her sponsorship of the Yellow Jacket, Stinger, and Denison Hi News

To one about whom words are practically worthless when expressing our admiration and love for this person

To one who has the heart to conceive, the understanding to direct, or the hand to execute

The 1970 annual staff proudly dedicates the 1970 Yellow Jacket to Mrs. Kay Casey

Mr. Irby looks on as Steve Bounds, annual editor, presents Mrs. Casey with her bouquet of roses just after the announcement of the dedication

The many worlds of DHS
Meet, intersect—
And sometimes collide.
To keep them running smoothly—
Together, yet separately—
Requires a skilled touch,
A special kind of person.

School Board

The board of education spends countless hours in the study of policies, formulating such policies and planning the building, staffing and administration of our school buildings. Each member sacrifices many evenings at home or days at work in order to devote more time to the betterment of the school system.

Superintendent's Message

To the students of DHS

We live in a time of challenge as well as a time of ~~truce~~ and change. May your experience as students in Denison Senior High School prepare you to be thoroughly matched with the times. Congratulations on your progress.

Sincerely,

H. W. Gagnon

Superintendent of Schools

Principal's Message

It is my sincere hope that the students of Denison Senior High have had a rewarding and an enjoyable year during 1969-1970. I consider it a privilege to have worked with you to accomplish this. I encourage you to avail yourselves of each opportunity to be of service to your fellow man.

We have a wonderful heritage of freedom. To retain this freedom we must give untiring and serious thought to our responsibilities.

Mr. Lyndol Irby, Principal
Denison Senior High School

Assistant Principal

Mr. George Petrus

The assistant principals are those unenvied people who too often get too much work and too little recognition. New to DHS is Mr. George Petrus, who rapidly won the students' respect.

Mr. Corky Bowling

In addition to his duties as athletic director, Mr. Corky Bowling is, for the first time, an assistant principal this year.

Secretaries

Mrs. Nelda Redding

At times, in the office, it must seem that a school runs mainly on paper. Getting it filled out, folded up, and filed away is the job of the secretaries. Mrs. Nelda Redding in her second year at DHS, serves as secretary for the school.

Mrs. Dodie White

New to DHS is Mrs. Dodie White, who has quickly become a part of the school. Mrs. White is responsible for the time-consuming and exacting job of posting grades to students' permanent record cards. In addition, she mans the telephone switchboard and ministers to students' needs.

English

Mrs. Gene Sickles teaches senior English, and is head of the English Department. She has taught for four years, and is a sponsor for Y-Teens and the Senior Class

During her classes' study of Shakespeare's 'Romeo and Juliet,' Mrs. Sickles placed this poster on her bulletin board

The English Department leans to the traditional methods, but many teachers make frequent use of audio-visual aids to supplement and enrich the regular texts. Books and other materials combine to teach the students to express themselves effectively—an important skill in today's world, where communication may be the key to survival. New teachers in the English Department this year are Mrs. Marjorie Rudig and Mrs. JoAnn Evans.

Fine Arts

MR. ROGER HANSON
DEPARTMENT HEAD
ETSU, B.M.E., M.E.

If the band and choir seem a little bit prouder than usual this year, it's with reason. The band has completely new uniforms, and the band hall is newly air-conditioned. The choral department is the richer by some two-hundred dollars worth of music.

All people—and DHS students—fall into the category of having a need to express themselves creatively. The Fine Arts Department is here to answer that need.

Department

Two new teachers in the Fine Arts Department this year are Mr. Nicki Roberson and Mrs. Dorothy Richardson. Mrs. Richardson is teaching in the art department, and Mr. Roberson teaches both speech and drama. This is the first year of public school experience for both.

The "Hungry Five" is a group of musicians from the band who joined together to make some beer-garden Bavarian music. They are shown here performing for the PTA. From left to right they are: Steve Bounds, Donald Crowell, Bill Nix, David Talbott, and Harvey Putsche.

Those who are interested in science go on to take chemistry from Mr. Rowland. Physics, taught by Mr. Gardner, is strictly voluntary. Chemistry and physics are generally taken by those students who plan to attend college.

Biology students conduct experiments frequently in their studies. The students are Cynthia Anderson, Ann Griffin, Tereasa Clark, Susan Cherry.

Mr. Lowrance discusses experiment with a biology student.

Social Studies

The Social Studies Department works to give students a background for citizenship. World and United States History teach students of the forces that shaped their country; World Geography teaches them of its physical surroundings; civics tells them how it is run; and economics teaches them how it keeps going. A new face in this department is Mr. McCarty, who teaches world and U.S. history. An adoption committee, headed by Miss Bledsoe, has studied samples of new textbooks for next year's United States history and Civics classes.

Of all the departments at DHS, the Vocational-Industrial Department has the most immediate and direct effect upon its students as it prepares them for the jobs they will enter after high school. In order to provide the vital up to date instruction, well-trained teachers and modern equipment are needed. There are two new teachers in the department this year, and such varied paraphernalia as furniture, filmstrips, and hairdryers. Moving with the times, the homemaking section is offering a new course in home management—open to both sexes—and the cosmetology section is devoting more time to the styling of the new, fashionable wigs and wigs.

Service Personnel

From day to day, the janitors go unobtrusively about their jobs, keeping the school building in working order. Few students pause to notice—or thank—them until a window breaks or a furnace quits, or some other malfunction disrupts class life. Then, briefly, the janitor is hero of the hour. They are from left to right: Mr. L. Z. Wilemon, Mr. Clyde Ramsey, and Mr. Douglas Carr. Not shown: Mr. Lynch.

The maids, who keep the litter from filling DHS to the ceiling, are almost as unobtrusive as the janitors, and equally as necessary. It would be difficult to imagine the state the building would be in without their unfailing help. They are from left to right: Mrs. Smallwood, Mrs. Jones, and Mrs. Hollis.

King Jon Burns and Queen Elise Bratteli preside over the festivities the night of Neewollah.

On the night when witches, goblins, and the rest have their traditional spree, the students of DHS meet and stave off the supernatural with revelry of their own. Neewollah, the annual Halloween variety show, is a highlight of the fall semester, and never fails to draw a good crowd.

Who's Who

Most Versatile Dwayne Fennell Pat Saunders

There are some people who do one thing well, and some people who do nothing well, and Pat and Dwayne, who do everything well. These two are regarded with envy and admiration by their less multi-faceted fellow students.

Most Cooperative Jim Bob Reavis Deanna Darling

Patience, good manners, a willingness to work calmly under pressure and to solve quarrels by compromise—these make up that elusive ingredient of school life, cooperation. Jim Bob and Deanna, possessing this quality, make life at DHS a little smoother.

Who's Who

Most Likely To Succeed Gary Wilson Lanell Miller

Don't lose track of Gary and Lanell ... with all that brain power and sheer determination on their side, they will make their mark on the times. And the Tribune and the Sun, and the—well, anyway, check on them in a few years.

Most Dependable Oliver Meek Pam Ransom

If something's to be done—find Oliver and Pam. They'll do it sooner, faster, and probably better. An added bonus: with their cheerful, chock-full-of-vitality attitude, they'll seem to be enjoying every minute.

Who's Who

Most Original Dwight Haworth Betsy Greig

Sometimes quietly innovative, sometimes boldly different, Dwight and Betsy set the pace and come up with the ideas for the rest of DHS

Most Humorous

Barry Wells Beth Johnston

A little laughter keeps school from getting grim. Beth and Barry have kept the creeping greyness out of DHS for three years now, and their humor has lightened many a dreary day

Who's Who

Friendliest

Doug Kopplin

Carol Ann Clayton

A warm smile can make a chemistry test less dreary and cheerful conversation can keep the hall from seeming like a freeway to nowhere. Friends can do this and Doug and Carol Ann are '70's friendliest

Best Leaders

Mike Simpson

Dana Martin

Rarer than righte... rarer than ex... whether it's a genius for organization or the ability to quiet crowds with a word, the talent for leadership is given to very few. In the 1970 Senior Class, it's concentrated in Mike and Dana.

STEVE BOUNDS
Editor-in-Chief

This year's Yellow Jacket incorporates many unseen hours of planning, working, and studying in preparation. For the first time in DHS history, the staff had its own darkroom to print and develop pictures. Also a first is the summer delivery of the book thus allowing the staff time to completely represent the many WORLDS OF DHS, from opening assembly to graduation. This book is the largest in the schools history, and the most complete. Under the capable and never-failing supervision of Mrs. Kay Casey, the staff is constantly at work on this, the 1970 year-book, not just an annual. The staff would like to express its appreciation for the cooperation of many people and departments of the school and around Denison which have made the production of this book possible.

Fifty-nine members and officers make up the Student Council. The Council is responsible for many parts of everything that DHS. A few examples are the care of student directories and the presentation of daily devotions. This year, they also managed Western Day, were involved in the opening day assembly and orientation, sponsored such spirit raisers as Spirit Week and the car bash, and presented the annual talent show. At Christmas time, the Council sponsored a holiday project of providing a few comforts for the mother of math teacher Mr. D. D. McKnight, who lost all her earthly possessions at a fire at her family home. This proved to be one of the last bright moments in Mrs. McKnight's life.

Each year the Student Council seniors strive to leave a remembrance of their tenure to future classes at DHS. The 1969 Council filled the second floor planter with artificial greenery to provide a pleasing first impression for all who enter the building. The 1970 Student Council provided a school motto and emblem.

Stinger Staff

Most of the equipment used for the last two years to publish the STINGER is to be retired next year for a new off-set press. In the past, the paper has been mimeographed manually. This new process will accomplish two big purposes. First, it will cut the man-hours of work done on the paper this year in half. In addition it will give the paper a face-lifting by allowing the use of pictures, artwork, and a cleaner, more pleasing style of type. Mrs. Kay Casey, sponsor, worked many tireless hours with the staff shown in various shots here, to publish what was the finest school paper in DHS history. The STINGER won many awards from the Interscholastic League Press Conference for equal coverage of all phases of school life. Like the YELLOW JACKET, it endeavored to report on all the WORLDS OF DHS.

The coaches at DHS are a hardworking lot, and whether the season has been a good one or a bad one, they deserve the appreciation of the students. They do their work for the students and the school—to provide a binding force for the student body.

Mr. And Miss School Spirit

Near the close of each football season, the cheerleaders pick two seniors to be Mr. and Miss School Spirit. These two—Jim Bob Reavis and Pam Ransom—have given their firm and continuous support to the Yellow Jackets all through the season to earn this honor.

School Spirit

School spirit may be defined as a deep and unshakeable conviction that no other school, anywhere, is quite the same as DHS. Since the uniqueness of DHS is a fact—no school is ever exactly like another—then the quality of school spirit should remain constant—as this year's student body has certainly demonstrated

A-Team Basketball

Jimmy Criss

A-Team Basketball

Fighting Heart Award

Once each year this fairly new award is given to the basketball player who is chosen by his teammates to receive it. The athlete who receives it is the one who his teammates think has the best spirit, desire to win, and, as the award implies, the best fighting heart throughout the course of the season. Curtis Moore was the first to get the honor in 1967-68, followed in 1968-69 by Ken Williams. During the 1969-70 season, Jimmy Criss was presented the award. No greater honor for a basketball player receive at DHS than the Fighting Heart Award. It will very likely be a tradition of Denison basketball for many years to come. Coach Mike Long congratulates Criss.

Richardson

The Jackets were defeated by the Richardson Eagles in the first district game of the season by a score of 99-47. The first quarter was nip and tuck with a wild start to the game. The game was tied at 15-15 until the last thirty seconds when the Eagles got two quick baskets on their home court. From there on, the defensive efforts of the opponents overwhelmed the smaller Jacket team and they managed to get through the Jacket setup. The Yellow Jackets dropped to an 0-1 district record. In a rematch the Jackets dropped their sixth district game 91-59 after a fatal third quarter in which the Eagles outscored them 27-10. The loss dropped the Jackets to 1-5 in district with four games left to play.

The Yellow Jackets whipped the Paris Wildcats, 77-67, in their seventh district game. Criss was the leading scorer for the Jackets with 32 points.

Earlier in the year at the Irving Tournament, the Paris Wildcats narrowly defeated the Yellow Jackets. However, the wheel turned when the mighty Jackets came up with their convincing ten-point win over Paris. Several times during the game, it was tied or within two points either way, but in the fourth period the Jacket five pulled gradually ahead and came up with a thrilling victory.

MIKE SIMON

Greenville

In the Jackets third district game with the Greenville Lions, they came out on the short end of a 66-53 game. The scoring for the Jackets was mainly dominated by Mike Simon while the scoring for the Lions was fairly well spread out. The first and third quarters showed quite impressive ball handling by the opponents while the Jackets set up a fine second quarter. This was one of the hardest fought games of the entire season considering the fact that almost every one of Greenville's starters was well over six foot. In the end, the Jackets went down fighting with all their might.

As the season drew near an end, in the eighth district game, the Jackets once again met the Greenville Lions but that time on their home court. This time the fighting Yellow Jackets came up with a 62-58 victory over the Cats. In this game, the Jackets had a very strong second quarter as in the last game and Greenville's quarters were very much alike. Jimmy Criss scored 26 points in the encounter to help lead the Jackets to victory. The great desire to win led the Jackets to a well-earned victory.

And true of all of the other sporting organizations of the school, The Yellow Jacket basketball team never gave up.

Activities

These juniors nominated for Girls' State 1970 were Mary Sullenburger, Sheri Carlot, Joyce Tucker, Pat Stevens, Theresa Stewart, Pam Fleming, Tish Thomason, Debbie Morrison, Starling Kidd, and Rhonda Skaggs. Tish Thomason was elected by the American Legion Auxiliary to Girls' State. Debbie Morrison was appointed as alternate.

At the conclusion of the program, the academic awards and top ten per cent of the senior class were presented. Finally, the valedictorian and salutatorian were presented to the student body.

During the awards assembly, the girls' state and boys' state winners were announced as well as the clean-up crew for the senior clean-up campaign. Larry Engholm, chairman, John Dornstader and Sheri Carlot were the Soil Conservation Essay winners. Tracksters Doug Foster and Larry McClelland presented the eight track trophies to the school. The baseball team was presented by Coach Henry Scott. Arthur Hill won the President's Physical Fitness Award. Billie White won the Stephanie Award for outstanding girls' P.E. student. Craig Spears and Dana Martin won the Outstanding FTA boy and girl. Alan Gordon won the Voice of Democracy speech award.

Kerry Whitaker, Paul Holliday, Larry McClelland, Mary Lou Dusek, Pat Murphy, and Craig Spears attended the first all sports banquet at Grayson County College along with other members of the various sports organizations.

Junior class officers, Mike Miller, Vice-President; Tony Beckham, Secretary; Jamie Jacobs, President; and Mary Lou Busch, Treasurer spearheaded the fund-raising campaign to finance the Junior-Senior Prom. Sales of football programs and psychedelic stationery were among the fund-raising projects.

Seniors

No

Seniors need so many worlds
Because they soon leave all of them.

They try to be everywhere,
Do everything.
They are afraid—
Afraid there are worlds, at DHS
That they have never seen.
And their time is running out . . .

So they try to be in all of them,
In case they missed some.

Senior Class Officers

From left to right, the Senior class officers are Debbie Crittendon, Treasurer; Ringa Keene, Reporter; Pau Holiday, Parliamentarian; Oliver Meek, President; June Ritchey, Secretary; Leland Smothers, Vice-President.

Billy Leake and Laura Brown were selected by the Senior as their representatives to ride in the Homecoming Parade.

Activities

A group of young women, possibly members of a school organization, posing for a photo. The caption is partially obscured but appears to mention 'The group were...'.

The group were: Debra Doyle and Steve Bounds, English I; and Gary Crowell, English III; and [names obscured], English II.

The aftermath of the [event]... Mrs. Case's flowers... the [event]...

The group were: Terry Gerard, Physics; Pam Fleming, Chemistry; and Laura Johnson and [names obscured], Biology.

Activities

[illegible]

On Tuesday, October 1, Mr. Howard Macomber took the first train from New York to Philadelphia and then to Washington
D.C. He was accompanied by his wife and two children.

The joint report of the Joint Commission for the United States and Canada, dated May 1964, is attached.

Lab 11: Data Collection and Model Fitting

Activities

The officers of the Senior Class of 1970 ride in the Loyalty Day parade in downtown Denison during May.

The 1970 representatives to Boy's State are Gary Crowell and Gerald Owens.

Activities

Jon Burns, Winona Flaherty, Petty Kelley, and Ricky Kirkpatrick attended the Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin, along with Yellow Jacket staffers.

The drill team held its spring banquet at the Holiday Inn. The main purpose of the dinner was to honor Miss Judy Jackson, who is leaving to get married this summer.

Activities

Kenny Eisman reads the STNC at home where he is a part time student of the high school.

Mrs. Kay Casey shows off her flowers, necklace, and cake which she donated to her following the annual dedication ceremony. This was this year's annual dedication ceremony.

Sharon Steedman, Sam Nicholson, and Mrs. Redding check the absentees in the office. The office assistants aid the secretaries in the bookkeeping.

Gary Berquist demonstrates his ability to handle a bat at the senior day activity.

Senior Day

Students taking time out from the activities are John Alexander, Lese Myers, Larry McClelland, Cathy Watkins, June Ritchey, Pat Saunders, Bert Cross, Carol Cayton, and Deanna Darling.

Everette Baskett presides over the tour of the grounds at Loy Park.

Larry McKinn, Cathy Jacobson, and Robert Green face the opponents at the Blue and Gold volleyball game.

Donald Crowell, Jerel Hill, Ricky Kirkpatrick, and David Roberts look on as the Union and Famaa Cruise ride past gate security.

Activities

Paul Holliday, Keith Hubbard, and Leland Smathers help repair the parking lot and grounds at the senior clean up

Stormy Lattimore receives the Y-Teen Cup of Complete girlhood from Principal Lyndol Irby at the Y-Teen Mother-Daughter Banquet

Senior Play

Bill Evans portrays a character in the play.

Bill Evans, John Smith, and John Smith in a scene from the play.

The 1970 senior play was ARSENIC AND OLD LACE, a comedy about two sweet genteel old ladies who poison lonely old men and bury them in the basement. Complicating the plot are a brother who thinks that he is Teddy Roosevelt, a surprisingly sane nephew and his girlfriend, a murderer and his accomplice, and miscellaneous policemen and corpses. Mirth and horror are mixed in equal proportions before the play reaches its conclusion. The senior class sponsored the production of the play. Proceeds were used toward Senior Day at Loy Park.

Alvin Evans, a character in the play, meeting a friend.

Bill Evans, Anne E. Evans, and John Smith in a scene from the play.

Prom

Leon Hornbeck enjoys a dance to the music of the 'Shepards Bush'

The Roman numeral was placed in the middle of the gym. The theme of the prom was 'Holiday.' Tish Thomason was the queen of the prom. A committee of about 60 girls made up the committee.

Have Fun and Sue Crawford rock on to the beat of Led Zeppelin music

Prom

Barry Wells, Vickie Smith, Alex Smith, and Robert DeHornay
take a breather between dances.

Cheryl Firoshets and Bill Clift sit one out.

These sophomore boys were spear-carriers and the girls served punch and handed out favors at the prom.

Senior Day

John and Steve Reed relax and have a Cake at the Senior Day festivities.

Edna Thompson and Linda ... into the barn to ride horses

The 1970 Senior class planned, executed, and enjoyed their SENIOR DAY at Loy Lake Park on May 28. About 125 seniors participated; this was the largest turnout in many years. The day's activities included swimming, horseback riding, volleyball, football, baseball, lunch, dinner, and a barn dance in the evening.

SENIOR SONG

We are the Mighty Seniors,
We're always true
Not only to our class,
But Denison High School, too
We will never fail you,
Till the day we die
Cause we're the greatest class of
